

CULTIVATING JUST TRANSITION IN CENTRAL AND EASTERN EUROPE

Embrace the experience of the climate community from Central and Eastern Europe and learn from inspiring just transition projects.

On May 18th and 19th 2021, join others from the region who are striving for fossil-free societies where no one is left behind. Organized by Centre for Transport and Energy (CDE) and Climate Action Network (CAN) Europe.

This free and participatory gathering is designed for you in order to cultivate your competences, your projects and the climate network as such.

What are the goals of the event?

- to learn from practical experiences with just transition in the Central and Eastern Europe
- to increase quality of public participation and vision-building in the processes of just transition
- to create a space for learning from each other

The program is based on non-formal education principles and speakers who are going to share their experiences. Story-telling, workshops, group work and space for reflection. Please take into account that it is essential that you are going to participate in both days of the event.
